Studying with a disability or chronic illness

Dear student,

If you have a disability or chronic illness, Utrecht University will support you as much as possible in order to ensure that you complete your programme successfully. Examples of a disability / chronic illness include:

- visual, auditory or motor impairments;
- dyslexia;
- chronic and psychological disorders (e.g. depression, an autistic spectrum disorder, ADD or ADHD, Crohn's disease, diabetes, asthma, rheumatism, or ME / CFS, RSI / CANS, etc.).

Apply via Osiris Cases

If you want to discuss your situation and explore if you are eligible for extra support, you can indicate this via Osiris Cases. Osiris Cases is a separate file within Osiris student, the digital registration system of the UU. We also ask you to provide evidence concerning your diagnosis. Of course this information will be handled strictly confidential and will only be accessible for the study advisors FSS.

Log in via www.uu.nl/osirisstudent using your solis-id to do so. After you have opened your case in Osiris, you will receive a confirmation and the possibility to arrange a meeting with one of the study advisors.

If you submit your details in Osiris (Case) by Sunday 12 September at the latest, we can guarantee that any provisions have been requested for the first examination period.

If it is necessary for you to have an appointment earlier or if you have any questions, you can contact us via the above-mentioned telephone number or via e-mail: studieadviseurs.fsw@uu.nl

What kind of support does the university offer?

The study advisor can provide you with the exact details of the options available to you. Further information can also be found on the Disability or chronic illness page.

If you have any questions you can contact us via e-mail: studieadviseurs.fsw@uu.nl

Kind regards,
Study advisors Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences
