Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science

Art. 3.1 G – Aim of the programme

The Research Master in Public Administration and Organisational Science aims at preparing students for the further practice of public administration and organisational science research either in the form of an advanced PhD programme and PhD research, or in the form of consultancy- and policy-oriented research.

The main goal of the Research Master PAOS is:

To educate motivated people who, based on their academic knowledge of research into public administration and organisational science, can carry out academic and applied research that contributes to the growing body of knowledge concerned with (addressing) public issues.

To achieve this mission students must acquire knowledge and understanding of the disciplinary and theoretical approaches within Public Administration and Organisational Science (breadthwise); to go theoretically into key themes in the field of public administration and organisational science research (depthwise) and to acquire competences in the field of policy-oriented and academically oriented research in public administration and organisational science. The student knows, understands and complies with the requirements of scientific integrity as laid down in the Netherlands Code of Conduct for Research 2018.

Learning pathways

To achieve this, the programme has three learning pathways:

1. The substance of the public administration and organisation of public issues: Knowledge and understanding which are important for the carrying out of contextualised research into (solving) public issues. Cognitive skills to use this knowledge to set up a research project based on critical analysis.
2. Academic research into the public administration and organisation of public issues: The skills to research the public administration and organisation of public issues using a variety of approaches to generate scientifically relevant insights.
3. Applied research into the public administration and organisation of public issues: The necessary skills and attitude to use relevant knowledge and research skills to carry out applied research which generates new insights into public administration and organisation practices.

This leads to the following teaching objectives for each of the learning pathways in the Research Master PAOS.

Persons holding a management position with financial responsibility or (partial) administrative responsibility for a programme of study may not be appointed as a member or chair of the Board of Examiners. This will in any event include: the Dean, Vice-Dean; the Director/Head/Manager of a department; a member of a departmental management/administrative team; the Director/Head/Manager of a section ('afdeling' at the Law School); any member of a management or administration team; a member/chair of the Board of Studies of the Graduate School or the Undergraduate School and the Director of Education and the programme leaders of the degree programmes and study programmes.
4. Membership of the Board of Examiners will terminate upon expiry of the period of appointment. In addition, the Dean will discharge the chair and the members from their duties at their request. The chair and the members will also be dismissed by the Dean in the event that they no longer fulfil the requirements stated in paragraphs 2 or 3 of this article. In addition, the Dean may dismiss the chair and the members in the event that they fail to perform their statutory duties inadequately.
5. The Dean will make the composition of the Board(s) of Examiners known to the students and teaching staff.
6. The Board of Examiners may include further rules regarding its duties and tasks in the Examination Board regulations, including provisions on the appointment of examiners.

Art. 5.3 – Assessment of the research assignment or traineeship

1. A traineeship or research assignment is assessed by the supervisor in question and, by prior appointment, one or more other internal and/or external experts.⁴
2. The Research Master's thesis as well as the first outline of the thesis are assessed by two examiners.

Art. 5.4 – Marks

1. Marks are awarded on a scale from 1 to 10. The final assessment of a course is either a pass or fail expressed in marks: 6 or higher, or 5 or lower, respectively. The mark 5 is not provided with decimals. Also see Regulations of the Board of Examiners about marks and rounding off marks.
2. Alphanumeric results are awarded in the following cases:
 - a student who is registered for a course and has not participated in one of the test modules will be given an NP (Not Participated);

⁴ Legal research: in addition, at least one of the assessors is an examiner with the Department

- a student who is registered for a course and has not participated in any or in all the test modules will be given an NC (Not Completed);
- if the student has complied with a module, but has not received a mark for it, the student may be given a P (Pass) as the result;
- if the student has not completed a unit but does not receive a mark for it, the student can be given an F (Fail) as the result;
- a student who has been granted exemption by the Board of Examiners will be given a EX (Exemption).

Art. 5.5 – Make-up and resit exam

Legal Research

Force majeure, make-up exam

1. A student who is unable or was unable to participate in a maximum of one (sub-)test per course due to demonstrable circumstances outside of their control may sit the make-up exam, if they notified Studiepunt Rechten (Student Information Desk Law) prior to the test being taken. If prior notification is not possible, the student shall inform of the circumstances outside of their control as soon as possible. This student will no longer be able to take the resit exam.
2. The course coordinator determines the form of the make-up exam and determines whether the student may participate in the make-up exam.
3. The make-up exam is a test in which all the material for the course can be examined.

Resit: supplementary and replacement exam

1. If a student has fulfilled all obligations to perform to the best of their ability during the course, as long as the final (failing) grade is at least a 4.0 (rounded in Osiris), they will be given a once-only opportunity to take a resit exam consisting of a supplementary or a replacement exam.
2. Students do not qualify for a supplementary or a replacement exam if they have been awarded a pass.
3. Students also do not qualify for a supplementary or a replacement exam for a sub-test for which they have been awarded a pass.
4. The course coordinator decides whether the test will be a supplementary or a replacement exam and, having regard to paragraph 1, decides whether a student is allowed to participate. The course coordinator also decides on the form and the contents of the test.
5. The supplementary or replacement exam is an individual test, whereby the entire course material can be tested.
 - a. In case of a replacement exam, students sit an entirely new test, which is comparable to the sub-test to be replaced.
 - b. A supplementary exam enables students to repair an unsatisfactory sub-test by making a supplementary assignment or by implementing an improvement on the basis of feedback or otherwise.
 - c. The supplementary or replacement exam is assessed with a mark on a scale of 1 to 10. The mark awarded for the test replaces the failing mark.
 - d. The course coordinator may determine that in the assessment of a supplementary exam it may be taken into account that a student has shown to be unable to complete the sub-test with a pass within the stipulated time.
6. If a student has been awarded fails for all or several sub-tests, the course coordinator decides for which of those sub-tests a supplementary exam or a replacement exam must be taken.
7. In case of courses with two or more sub-tests, the final result of the course is composed of the weighted average of the mark awarded for the supplementary or the replacement exam and that/those of the course's other sub-test(s).
8. If a student has been awarded a fail for several sub-tests, or if they have been awarded a mark lower than a 4 (rounded in Osiris) for one or more sub-tests, the final grade for the course cannot be higher than a 7.
9. The aforementioned paragraphs are not applicable to the Capita Selecta modules (2.5 ECTS).
 - a. To the Capita Selecta modules paragraph 4 is applicable, subject to the provisions of par. 1, in which case the course coordinator of the relevant module may decide to restrict

- the possibility of resitting the test to participation in a module designated for this purpose.
10. No make-up possibility is provided for a supplementary or a replacement exam.

Multidisciplinary Economics

1. If the student has fulfilled all obligations to perform to the best of one's ability during the course, and the student is nonetheless awarded a failing mark, but the final mark is at least a 4.0 (not rounded up), the student will be given a once-only possibility to sit an additional or substitute test.
2. A student does not qualify for an additional or substitute test if the student has been awarded a pass.
3. This retake is an individual assessment, this could cover the complete course material.
4. The organisation of the retake and how the end grade is decided are explained in the course manual.
5. If a sufficient mark is obtained for a first-year course of the Multidisciplinary Economics programme, it is not possible to re-enter that course in the second year of the programme.

Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science

1. If the student has fulfilled all obligations to perform to the best of the student's ability during the course, as long as the final (failing) mark is at least a four, the student will be given a once-only opportunity to sit an additional or substitute test.
2. Should the student not have passed a course after the second academic year of enrollment for this course, all partial results of the course become invalid. The student is obliged to attend the course once more and pass all including tests.
3. Insufficient part-results of 5.0 up to and including 5.4 may be compensated with other part-results from the same course. Part-results such as these may only be resat if the final result of the course is a fail.
4. Part-results lower than 5.0 should always be resat, with due observance to the provisions made in paragraph 1 of this article.
5. Tests results of 5.5 or higher count as a pass and may not be resat.
6. A student may file a request with the Board of Examiners for an alternative to taking a test or resitting a test if a situation of force majeure exists as a result of which the student is unable to take part in the regular test, as specified in subart. 1 of these Regulations. Should there still be a possibility to take a regular test in the current academic year, then the student is expected to make use of this opportunity before invoking this provision. The term 'force majeure' is taken to mean:
 - Prolonged or chronic illness
 - handicap or functional disability
 - exceptional circumstances, including family circumstances.A situation of force majeure should always be substantiated by documentary evidence. The request shall be submitted to the Secretary of the Board of Examiners, not later than ten working days after the regular test date.
7. If the weighting of a test is altered and the student who is resitting the test incurs a shortage of credits as a result, this student may, in consultation with the lecturer in question, be given a supplementary assignment in order to compensate the shortage.
8. Students who find themselves confronted with an undesirable and disproportionately long extension of the duration of their studies, may file a substantiated request with the Board of Examiners to qualify for an earlier resit date.

Art. 5.6 – Types of tests

1. Whether the final assessment of a course is an oral or a written test, or whether it is tested in another way, is laid down in the University Course Catalogue.
2. Upon a student's request the Board of Examiners may allow a test to be administered in another way than as stipulated in the first paragraph of this provision.

Art. 5.7 – Oral tests

1. Only one person at a time can sit for an oral test unless the Board of Examiners has decided otherwise.
2. Oral tests are public unless the Board of Examiners or the examiner in question has decided otherwise due to special circumstances, or due to objections raised by the student.
3. In principle, a second examiner will be appointed.

Art. 5.8 – Provision for testing in special cases

1. If not providing for an individual testing possibility would result in a 'special case of manifest unfairness', the Board of Examiners may decide to grant an individual testing opportunity. This does not apply to the thesis.
2. The student must submit a request for a special opportunity to sit a test to the Board of Examiners as soon as possible, with evidence in support of their request.

Legal Research

3. A student will be eligible for an individual testing session if no more than one course in the programme, which was taken at the most recent opportunity and was not concluded with a passing mark, is necessary to complete the programme, and if the student is unable to choose an alternative within the current programme. The individual testing session will, in principle, be granted only if not granting it would result in a demonstrable delay in studies of at least three months. The course coordinator decides on the form of the individual testing possibility.
4. This rule does not apply to the thesis.
5. The student must submit the request for an individual testing session as referred to in paragraph 3 of this provision to the Board of Examiners in writing, as soon as it is established that the student meets the relevant conditions. The Board of Examiners must inform the student, and, if it grants the request, the relevant course coordinator, of its decision in writing within 20 working days (approximately four weeks).
6. As a rule, the test will take place in the course period following that in which the conditions for the testing session have been met.

Multidisciplinary Economics

3. The Board of Examiners can grant an individual examination⁵ to a student if:
 - a. The examination concerns the final course to be completed and said course is a compulsory course. This does not apply to the thesis.
 - b. The regular examination will take place at least 2 months as from the moment of the request.

Art. 5.9 – Time limit for marking tests and publication of the mark

1. The examiner must determine the mark within 24 hours after administering an oral test and provide the student with a written statement of the mark and provide the administration of the faculty with the relevant information.
2. The examiner must mark a written or otherwise administered test within 10 working days from the day on which it was administered or handed in and must provide the administration of the school with the information needed to provide the student with the written or electronic proof of the mark.
3. If the mark is not available within this period of time for reasons of circumstances beyond one's control, the examiner must communicate this to the student, indicating when the mark will be determined. Force majeure may only be established in consultation with the Programme Director⁶.
4. The written statement of the mark achieved must inform the student of the right of inspection referred to in article 5.11 and of the possibility to appeal to the Examinations Appeals Board.

Art. 5.10 – Period of validity

1. The period of validity of courses passed is unlimited. Contrary to this, the Board of Examiners may impose an additional or alternative test for a course, the test for which was passed more than five years earlier, if the knowledge or understanding being examined is demonstrably out of date, or if the skills being examined are demonstrably out of date.
2. Subtests that have been passed as part of a course that has not been passed overall will lose their validity after the end of the academic year in which they were passed.

Art. 5.11 – Right of inspection

1. For at least 20 working days after the result of a written test has been made known, the student may, upon the student's request, inspect the marked work. Moreover, upon request, the student may receive a copy of the work at cost price.

⁵ The examiner will decide about the type of individual examination.

⁶ Legal research: the Director of Education

2. During the period mentioned in the first paragraph, the student may inspect the questions and assignments of the test in question, and if possible, also the norms according to which the assessment was effected.
3. On the testing schedule the students' right of inspection is pointed out. In the rules and regulations of the Examinations Board, additional rules as to the right of inspection and the discussion of the result can be included.

Art. 5.12 – Retention period tests

- a. The assignments, their completion and the work assessed in written tests will be kept (in paper or digital form) for a period of two years following the assessment.
- b. The graduation thesis and the assessment of this will be kept (in paper or digital form) for a period of seven years after this assessment.

Art. 5.13 – Exemption

Upon a student's request, the Board of Examiners may, after having heard the examiner in question, grant the student exemption of a course of the programme, provided the student has:

- a. either completed a corresponding course of a study programme at university level as far as contents, scope, and standard is concerned;
 - b. or is able to demonstrate, either through work or professional experience, to have acquired sufficient knowledge and skills with respect to the course in question.
2. in case a student follows two or more master's programmes for each individual master programme a different thesis has to be submitted.

In principle, an exemption only applies to an entire course and not to a part thereof.

Legal Research and Multidisciplinary Economics

3. Exemptions obtained on the basis of courses completed in the context of another Master's degree programme cannot result in a smaller study load than stipulated in article 3.4.
4. Within the second degree programme, credits must be earned which are worth the number of credits for the courses on which the exemptions are based. No exemption may be obtained from the Master's thesis.
5. The provisions of paragraph 1 of this provision will not apply if the other degree programme is a Master's degree programme of the Utrecht University School of Law and additional ECTS were earned in the first Master's degree programme in the courses which will be part of the second Master's degree programme above the minimum required study load of 60 ECTS.
6. The provisions of paragraph 4 do not apply either in case the other degree programme is a Master's degree programme of the school which was terminated without passing the examination.

Art. 5.14 – Fraud and plagiarism

Fraud and plagiarism are defined as an act or omission on the part of students which produces an incorrect representation of their own performance as regards their knowledge, skills and understanding, which may result in the examiner no longer being able to assess the knowledge or ability of the students in a proper and fair manner.

Fraud includes:

- cheating during tests. The person offering the opportunity to cheat is an accessory to fraud;
- sharing answers with others while taking a test;
- seeking the help of third parties during a test;
- being in possession of (i.e. having/carrying) of tools and resources during tests, such as pre-programmed calculators, mobile phones, smartwatches, smartglasses, books, course readers, notes, etc., consultation of which is not explicitly permitted;
- having others carry out all or part of an assignment and presenting this as own work;
- gaining access to questions or answers of a test prior to the date or time that the test takes place;
- perform (or try to perform) technical changes that undermine the online testing system;
- making up survey or interview answers or research data;
- wrongly signing or having another sign the attendance lists.

Plagiarism is defined as including data or sections of text from others or from one's own older work in a thesis or other paper without quoting the source. Plagiarism includes the following:

- cutting and pasting text from digital sources such as encyclopedias or digital publications without using quotation marks and referring to the source;
 - cutting and pasting text from the internet without using quotation marks and referring to the source;
 - using excerpts from printed material such as books, magazines or other publications or encyclopedias without using quotation marks and referring to the source;
 - using a translation of the abovementioned texts without using quotation marks and referring to the source;
 - paraphrasing of the abovementioned texts without giving a (clear) reference: paraphrasing must be marked as such (by explicitly linking the text with the original author, either in text or a footnote), whereby the impression is not created that the ideas expressed are those of the student;
 - using visual, audio or test material from others without referring to the source and presenting this as own work;
 - resubmission of the student's own earlier work without source references, and allowing this to pass for work originally produced for the purpose of the course, unless this is expressly permitted in the course or by the lecturer;
 - using the work of other students and passing this off as own work. If this happens with the permission of the other student, the latter is also guilty of plagiarism;
 - in the event that, in a joint paper, one of the authors commits plagiarism, the other authors are also guilty of plagiarism, if they could or should have known that the other was committing plagiarism;
 - submitting (part of) papers obtained from a commercial institution (such as an internet site offering excerpts or papers) or having papers written by someone else whether or not in return for payment.
2. a. In all cases in which fraud or plagiarism is found or suspected, the examiner will inform the student and the Board of Examiners of this in writing.
 - b. The Board of Examiners will give the student the opportunity:
 - to respond to that in writing;
 - to be heard.
 3. The Board of Examiners will determine whether fraud or plagiarism has occurred and will inform the student of its decision in writing and of the sanctions in accordance with the stipulations of the fourth paragraph, stating the possibility of appeal to the Examination Appeals Board.
 4. The Board of Examiners is authorized to impose sanctions. In doing so, the Board of Examiners shall ensure that the sanction is proportionate: the consequences of the sanction shall be in proportion to the degree and seriousness of the fraud or plagiarism committed.
 5. One or more of the following sanctions may be imposed, depending on the nature and extent of the fraud or plagiarism committed, and the circumstances in which the fraud or plagiarism was committed, as well as the student's study phase:
 - invalidation of the paper or test submitted;
 - reprimand, a note of which will be made in OSIRIS;
 - removal from the course;
 - no longer being eligible for a positive degree classification (cum laude) as referred to in article 6.2;
 - exclusion from participation in tests belonging to the course concerned for the current academic year, or for a maximum period of 12 months;
 - complete exclusion from participation in all tests for a maximum period of 12 months.
 6. In the case of extremely serious and/or repeated fraud or plagiarism, the Board of Examiners may recommend that the Executive Board permanently terminate the concerned student's registration for the programme.
 7. If the Board of Examiners determines that there has been widespread or organised fraud or plagiarism, on a scale which would affect the test results in their entirety, the Board of Examiners will decide without delay that the test concerned is invalid and that all the participants must resit the whole test at short notice. The Board of Examiners will set the date on which the test must be retaken. This date will be no later than 10 working days after the fraud was established, so that the participants can still benefit from their preparatory work for the test.

Art. 5.15 – Plagiarism control

1. For the purpose of checking for plagiarism in texts written by students, such as papers, thesis, etc., electronically submission, whether or not by using a designated plagiarism detection system, can be mandated by the examiner of the course concerned. In case the student nevertheless fails to submit the text electronically in time, the text can be assessed as non-sufficient.

2. By submitting a text, the student gives permission, in the broadest sense of the word, for checking for plagiarism by a plagiarism detection system chosen by the department as well as for recording the text in databases, that are necessary for future plagiarism checks.
3. In case it is decided in a particular course to make texts public, the student retains the right not to publish other than for the plagiarism check referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this article.

SECTION 6 – EXAMINATION

Art. 6.1 – Examination

1. As soon as the student has fulfilled the requirements of the examinations programme, the Board of Examiners will determine the result of the examination and award a degree certificate as referred to in article 6.4.
2. Prior to determining the result of the examination, the Board of Examiners may conduct their own examination of the student's knowledge of one or more components or aspects of the degree programme. The Board of Examiners will only conduct such an investigation if it establishes that there are certain facts or circumstances that lead it to the conclusion that the Board of Examiners cannot vouch for the student having obtained the exit qualifications for the course (as referred to in Art. 3.1 of the Education and Examination Regulations).
3. Legal Research: Assessment of the examination file constitutes part of the final examination. The examination date is the last working day of the month in which, according to the results as registered in the electronic student file in Osiris, the student has met the requirements of the examination programme. The student must be registered for the degree programme on the date on which the examination is held.
Multidisciplinary Economics: The examination date is the last day of the month in which, according to the results as registered in the electronic student file in Osiris, the student has met the requirements of the examination programme. The student must be enrolled in the programme on the date on which the examination is taken.
Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science: Assessment of the examination file constitutes part of the final examination. The examination date is the last working day of the month in which the Board of Examiners has determined that the student has fulfilled the requirements of the examinations programme. The student must be registered for the degree programme on the date on which the examination is held.
4. The examination will be passed on the condition that all courses have been passed.
5. A further condition for passing the examination and receiving the certificate is that the student was registered for the degree programme during the period in which the tests and the examination were taken. If the student does not fulfill this condition, the Executive Board may issue a statement of no objection in relation to the passing of the examination and the issue of the certificate, after the student has paid the tuition fees and administration charges owing for the 'missing' periods.
6. A student who has passed an examination and is therefore entitled to be awarded a certificate, may request that the Board of Examiners delay the granting of the certificate and the date of the examination. Such a request must be submitted within 10 working days after the student has been informed of the examination results, stating the date on which the student wishes to receive the certificate. The Board of Examiners will in any case grant the request in the academic year 2023-2024 if the student:
 - plans to fulfil a management position for which Utrecht University has provided a board activities grant;
 - plans to do an internship⁷ or take a course of a study programme abroad.Postponement of the examination date is possible only once and for the duration of one academic year at the most. Postponement may only be granted for the duration of thirteen months for students who want to make use of tuition fee-board activities.
7. Legal Research
In addition to the grounds mentioned in paragraph 6, the examination date may be postponed if the student:
 - wants to attend additional courses to meet the requirements of 'civiel effect';
 - wants to start with a second Master's degree programme at another university in the Netherlands at a statutory tuition fee. A delay of the graduation is granted up to and including the month in which the second Master's degree programme starts

⁷ Legal research: an internship in the next academic year. To this end, a delay of the awarding of the certificate is granted up to and including the month of September. An internship within an academic year does not require that the awarding of the certificate is delayed. The student may be awarded the certificate and after that, for the purpose of the internship, may remain enrolled at Utrecht University during the remainder of the academic year.

Art. 6.2 – The classification ‘Cum Laude’

These provisions on the classification ‘cum laude’ applies to students starting from 2016 on. The ‘cum laude’ regulations of The Education and Examination Regulations 2015-2016 apply to students who started before 1 September 2016.

The ‘cum laude’ classification will be awarded to the Master’s Degree examination if each of the following conditions has been fulfilled:

- a weighted, not rounded average mark of at least 8.0 has been earned for the courses of the Master’s Degree programme;
- the final results of courses separately were awarded the final mark of 7.0 or higher;
- the thesis has been awarded at least the not rounded final mark 8.0;
- during the study no course has resulted in an insufficient score and no course having resulted in a sufficient score has been retaken;
- exemptions that do not count have been obtained for not more than 20 credits;
- the Board of Examiners has not taken any decision stating that fraud or plagiarism was committed and that the student therefore is not eligible for a positive degree classification (cum laude);
- all courses of the Master’s Degree Programme have been passed within three years calculated from the first day of enrolment as a student for the Master’s Degree Programme.

Art. 6.3 – Degree

1. Those who pass the examination for Multidisciplinary Economics and Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science are awarded a ‘Master of Science’ degree. Those who pass the examination for Legal Research are awarded a ‘Master of Law’ (LLM) degree. Those who are awarded a LLM degree, may use the title ‘meester’ (mr.).
2. The degree awarded will be noted on the certificate.

Art. 6.4 –Certificate and International Diploma Supplement

1. To prove that the student passed the examination the Board of Examiners awards a certificate. One certificate will be issued for each degree programme, even if a student completes several programmes.⁸
2. For international purposes the Board of Examiners will add the International Diploma Supplement in the English language to this certificate, that provides insight into the nature and contents of the study programme.

Art. 6.5 – Grading Tables

1. The International Diploma Supplement gives the student’s cumulative average mark and an ECTS Grading Table.
2. The cumulative average mark shows the student’s academic performance on a scale of 1 to 10. It is calculated based on the final results for the courses the student has successfully completed within the degree programme. Courses that are not assessed on a numerical basis are not included in the calculation. The cumulative average mark is weighted based on the number of credits for each course.
3. The ECTS Grading Table gives a clear picture of Utrecht University’s marking culture for educational institutions and employers outside the Netherlands. Based on the Grading Table, they can convert the results into their own marking system. The ECTS Grading Table is an institution-wide table for all Master’s Degree programmes. This table uses a ten-point scale where only the marks from 6 to 10 are shown, as only passing marks are included in the Grading Table. The marks are expressed only as whole or half points. The percentage given with each mark indicates how frequently each mark is awarded.
4. The ECTS Grading Table is calculated on the basis of:
 - all final passing marks in courses undertaken towards the degree, excluding alphanumerical results;
 - not weighted according to study load;
 - in the three most recent academic years;
 - of students who were registered for a Master’s Degree programme at Utrecht University.

⁸ For LRM students: for the conditions for meeting the professional requirements for the legal profession and the judiciary (the so-called declaration of civil effect), see Annex 5 of the Education and Examination Regulations for a Master’s degree in Law.

SECTION 7 – ACADEMIC ADVICE AND SUPPORT

Art. 7.1 – Student information system

1. The programme's Department of Educational and Student Affairs registers the students individual study results and makes these available to students through Osiris Student.
2. Students can obtain a certified study progress dossier from the Student Information Desk.

Art. 7.2 – Academic advice and support

1. The school/department must provide academic advice and support for the students who are registered for the study programme.
2. Student counselling encompasses:
 - Appointment of a study supervisor who is responsible for:
 - o encouraging students to feel part of the community;
 - o supervising programme choices;
 - o assisting students to get their bearings on the job market.
 - Referring and assisting students who encounter difficulties during their studies;
 - At the end of the first year of their study programme, the student will receive a - non-binding – forecast concerning admission to a promotion degree programme.

Art. 7.3 – Disability and chronic illness

Students with a disability or chronic illness will be offered the possibility to take courses and sit examinations in the manner as laid down in the Education Provision. Requests for a provision are submitted to the student counsellor via OSIRIS Student.

SECTION 8 – TRANSITIONAL AND CONCLUDING PROVISIONS

Art. 8.1 – Safety net scheme

In those cases not provided for in these regulations, or not provided for sufficiently clearly, the decision will be made:

- a. by the Board of Examiners if on the basis of Articles 7.3j (permission for flexible study programme), 7.11 (award and postponement of degree certificate) and 7.12b (statutory powers of the Board of Examiners) of the Act or on the basis of Articles 3.6 to 3.9 and 3.10G (composition of optional course profile, optional courses), 5.5 to 5.10 (decisions on tests), 5.13-5.14 (exemption, fraud and plagiarism) and 6.1-6.2 (examination and cum laude) of these Education and Examination Regulations this falls within the competence of the Board of Examiners;
- b. in all other cases by the Dean or an officer appointed for this purpose on behalf of the Dean, after the Board of Examiners has expressed its view.

Art. 8.2 – Hardship clause

In accordance with the rules laid down in these Education and Examination Regulations, the Board of Examiners will decide, unless this would have manifestly unreasonable consequences for the student that due to special circumstances are disproportionate to the purposes to be served by the rule.

Art. 8.3 – Amendments

1. Amendments to these Regulations are adopted by the Dean in a separate decision, provided with the recommendations of the degree programme advisory committee and the Faculty Council in a separate resolution.
2. An amendment to these Regulations does not apply to the current academic year unless it is reasonable to assume that students' interests will not be prejudiced by it.
3. Furthermore, an amendment may not influence, at the students' expense, a decision pursuant to these Regulations taken by the Board of Examiners with respect to a student.

Art. 8.4 – Publication

The Dean will provide for the publication of these Regulations, as well as each amendment, on Internet.

Art. 8.5 – Effective date

These Regulations take effect on 1 September 2023.

Appendix I: Language policy for degree programme

Legal research

The foundational and supporting parts of the programme are offered fully in English. Elective courses, research project reports and the LRM thesis are usually taken and written in English, too, but the individual and profile parts can be in Dutch when individual students want to specialise in research of Dutch law topics and the subject matter of their courses or individual projects makes the choice for the Dutch language obvious.

This student-centred, flexible and differentiated approach fits well with the demands of legal research as an increasingly international scholarly discipline. Nowadays, being able to write, present and debate in English are indispensable when pursuing an academic career and we want to prepare students for this. The use of English as language of instruction further accommodates an international classroom. Students coming from different legal systems can have different perspectives on how law should be regarded, evaluated, developed and studied. Representation of such a range of perspectives is especially valuable in a research-oriented programme such as the LRM.

At the same time, it is of great importance to continue to contribute to the development of Dutch law by doing research in Dutch and by focussing on the Dutch scholarly or professional world. For that reason, we support students who want to make the choice to work in Dutch in the individual/profile part of the programme.

Multidisciplinary Economics

The language of instruction of all the Degree Programmes at Utrecht University School of Economics is English for 100% of the courses (including all examinations). This choice has been made based on the following reasons:

- The Degree Programmes are internationally oriented programmes in terms of preparation for a professional/academic field or career. Students, after completing the programme, will largely leave for an international labour market, i.e. for companies and institutions with an international orientation, where English is often the main language of communication. Moreover, our fully English-taught Bachelor Programme prepares the student for our Master Degree Programmes as well as other relevant Master Programmes that are overwhelmingly taught in English, also outside Utrecht University.
- Graduates will acquire the international and intercultural skills needed to function in a strongly globalizing labour market. To achieve this, the programme adopts an international learning environment with a student population of Dutch and international students, in which intercultural exchange and the acquisition of intercultural knowledge, insights and skills are an essential part of the programme.
- Additionally, having an international classroom very much helps students to become familiar with (and appreciate) different contexts and cultural backgrounds. It enables a high level of immersion into the problems at hand, which tend to be complex and an international component is indeed the rule rather than the exception. This benefit highly connects to the Real World Perspective that U.S.E. adheres to and also aligns with the strategic ambitions of the UU and LEG Faculty concerning Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI).
- Furthermore, we offer internationally-oriented programmes in terms of the field of science to be studied that is manifestly international in character and in which a substantive international orientation is an integral part of the teaching. Research and literature in the fields of study are commonly in English.
- Finally, not only do we have a substantial share of international students, we also cherish a diverse international staff from various regions across the globe. They bring rich, contextualised insights and experiences to our campus.

Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science

The main language of instruction in the programme Research in Public Administration and Organizational Science is English: all compulsory courses are offered fully in English. In its individual and profile parts (i.e., tutorial, electives, thesis), the program adopts a student-centered differentiated approach whereby (part) of the teaching can be in Dutch when this aligns with their individual ambitions. This may for instance be the case for students who want to pursue a career in government or at a nationally-oriented consultancy firm after their studies.

The choice for English as language of instruction for all compulsory courses helps the program to meet its aim of preparing students to contribute to the body of knowledge in public administration and organization science. Making such a contribution requires the ability to engage with academic debates at the highest level, which nowadays largely take place in English. Especially for those students who aspire an academic career, it is indispensable to be able to write, present and debate in English.

Additionally, teaching in English contributes to an international classroom. We aim to have such an international classroom because it helps students to become familiar with (and appreciate) different contexts and cultural backgrounds, something that is especially valuable for our field of study given the huge variety across countries in, for instance, public administration practices.
