

Tackle your exam

It's finally here.

You have prepared well and now it's time for your exam.

You might not know it, but you've got a plan for this!

Start by scanning your exam.

How many questions are there?

What is the point distribution?

And how are you going to plan your time?

Work in rounds and first answer the questions that you already know the answer to.

This way you get into the flow and that's good for your self-confidence.

Then move on to the more difficult questions.

Read the questions carefully and mark important words in the assignment.

If necessary, make notes or an answer diagram.

Are you doubting your answer?

Set the question aside for a while and move on to the next one.

This way you avoid running out of time.

On to the final round!

Now you return to the questions that had you doubting or you did not know the answer to.

This is how you tackle an exam.

Good luck and go for it!
